

Help your staff achieve the Certificate in Concrete Technology & Construction: Stage 1 – Concrete Practice

Basics of Concrete Technology Seminar
Tuesday 16th or Wednesday 17th November 2021
(Select the preferred day on booking form)
Glasgow Marriott Hotel
500 Argyle Street, Glasgow, G3 8RR

STAGE 1 – CONCRETE PRACTICE is an industry-recognised entry-level qualification in practical concreting awarded by The Institute of Concrete Technology. It is a formal certificate in recognition of mastering the basic objectives of activities in the concrete industry.

This one-day seminar outlines the aims, objectives and content of the ICT syllabus with discussions on key topics and culminating in a practice exam.

Designed for those with experience of working in the concrete industry such as; technicians, operatives, batch plant supervisors, sales and distribution staff and concrete mixer operators/drivers, to achieve a formal certificate in recognition of their success in mastering the basic objectives of activities in the concrete industry. Key topics include: concrete constituents, producing, transporting, handling and placing, concrete construction applications, sampling, testing and inspection. Full learning objectives can be found at: Qualifications

Registration at 09:15 and will close at approximately 16:00. The seminar includes a free copy of the Concrete Society publication Concrete Practice. A full copy of the presentation will be available electronically to those attending.
