Visit to OUTSIDE community project

The D&C region have arranged a visit to IDK Architects designed OUTSIDE community project in South Devon, with a talk and walk around by the Client.

The concrete Skate Bowl is part of a rural community project in South Devon that sits amongst a two-acre plot of land. The project serves as a case study for new forms of hyperlocal, sustainable rural development.

Join us at at the Outside 'shed' for coffee and cake and learn how this new facility provides the key hub for Outside's two-acre community-led regenerative masterplan.
